Purpose for which the funding is to be used:

The funding will be used to deliver a partnership project with Bakewell Old House Museum to run a series of four free workshops during August. The on site workshops will be to create a cardboard model of Bakewell Town Centre that will grow week on week, to celebrate the towns architectural and cultural heritage. It will serve as a visual mapping of the town that could be the catalyst for a future, more in depth mapping and analysis.

By taking part, visitors will learn how the town has evolved over the centuries, find out the purpose of the buildings and about the different trades and industries that have contributed towards making Bakewell such a successful and thriving town. Visitors will also be encouraged to spend time exploring the wonderful museum displays to find out more.

In addition, children and young people will be offered the opportunity to do their Discover Arts Award.

Arts Award is an official qualification administered by Trinity College, London that takes children and young people on a creative journey, exploring the arts world whilst also developing leadership skills and gaining a recognised qualification along the way. It is open to anyone aged 25 or under. This unique set of qualifications builds skills essential for success in the 21st century: Creativity and communication, along with problem-solving, reflective-thinking and confidence. All work will be moderated by Junction Arts and certificates presented to everyone who successfully completes the award.

The workshop will be led by Junction Arts staff and supported by volunteers from the museum. The volunteers will be given appropriate training to deliver the workshops; they will also take the photographs of the buildings from which the representations will be made and be on hand to share their wealth of knowledge, explaining the history and evolution of the buildings.

Over the course of the project we aim to work with up to 50 participants, mainly children and young people, although adults will also be encouraged to sit down with us and take part.

Finally, we will display posters promoting the event on which Bakewell Town Council logo will feature as a funder of the project.

Anticipated impact of the funding on the Bakewell Community

The project will raise awareness of the history of Bakewell and by taking part, local residents will have the opportunity not only to have fun but to learn about the fascinating history of their town and how it grew and developed over time. Having this understanding will foster a real sense of pride in the place they live.

For the children and young people who do their Arts Award, they will have taken the first step on their Arts Award journey which could end with them achieving the highest level Gold award and which is worth 16 UCAS points it's also a great boost to university and job applications. Junction Arts staff will be on hand to share information about Arts Award for anyone interested in knowing more.

The project will also equip the volunteers at Bakewell Old House Museum with new skills that they can utilise in the future to better support the museum as well as building their self confidence.
